New laws help kids, address health concerns

July 1

July 1 is the traditional effective date for many of the laws approved by the Indiana General Assembly during a normal session. In 2004, lawmakers enacted a number of initiatives that will help spur Indiana's economy, protect Hoosiers of all ages and form the groundwork for programs that can have lasting benefits for many years to come.

kids

To help abused and neglected children, Public Law 70 establishes a statewide review committee to analyze unexpected child deaths and find ways to prevent serious injuries in the future. Records of an abuse case will be opened to public scrutiny, and safeguards will be installed to ensure the protection of all children in a home where sexual abuse has taken place.

Also: PL 46 increases the penalty for neglect of a dependent to a Class A felony if the neglect results in the death of a child.

• PL 15 permits a judge to interview a child in chambers before establishing visitation rights.

• PL 27 enables a custodial parent to go to court to recover delinquent child support by intercepting the state income tax refund of the parent who owes the support.

• PL 38 requires every child entering grades 9 and 12 to be immunized against hepatitis B until July 1, 2008.

drug abuse

To combat the growing use and production of the drug methamphetamine, better known as meth, PL 39 creates a task force to develop a strategic action plan to both lessen the demand for meth and decrease the supply of the drug. Over the past two years, nearly 2,250 meth labs have been seized across the state.

PL 76 expands the use of ignition interlock systems to prohibit repeat offenders from drinking and driving. Any vehicle containing this system will not start until the driver breathes into the ignition interlock device. A related measure (PL 82) sets tougher penalties for drunken drivers who cause the deaths of others.

A series of new laws will enable the state to pay special attention to major health concerns. For example, PL 17 expands the scope of registries tracking birth problems and cancer cases. PL 69 establishes a task force to develop stroke prevention initiatives, PL 21 creates a governor's council for people with disabilities, and PL 12 establishes a home health care services and hospice services council. PL 61 creates a Commission on Health Care Interpreters and Translators.
